RICHMOND MAN ENTERPRISING

Ships an Invoice of Whiskey for the Dispensary Before He Gets Official Order.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

AALEIGH, N. C., Dec. II.—The Rabigh dispensary commission have leased three store-rooms on Exchange Place, in which to open the dispensary January 1st. They will be connected by archways and fitted up in the most improved manner. Consignments of whiskey for the stock are already arriving. An invoice was received yesterday from a Richmond house, to whom the manager's order has not yet been sent.

They shipped on the memorandum given to the bids were opened. The commission expects to borrow money from the city to discount all bills for stock.

The legislative committee has completed the examination of the books and vouchers of the State Auditor and entered a certificate that they are in exceptionally good condition and beautifully kept.

SCHOOL LIBRARIES.

Eighteen new rural school libraries were authorized to-day by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction. There are six each for Oranga and Anson counties, two each for Robeson and Yadkin, and one each for Robeson and Yadkin, and one each for Robeson and Pasquotank. Supplementary appropriations are also allowed for five libraries already established in Wilkes and Jackson counties.

The remains of the late J. L. Brockendige were brought here last evening from Richmond and carried at once to the cemetery for interment. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. M. Simms. Requisition papers from the Governor of North Carolina on the Governor of Pennsylvania were issued yesterday for the return to this State of Will Ingram, wanted in Gullford county for murder.

ST. LOUIS BUILDING.

Success of Appropriation Before

House Committee.

Mr. Kelley and Mr. Bowman were much congratulated yesterday by the friends of the Virginia building appropriation bill on their success in getting the Finance Committee of the House to report it favorably,
The bill met with but little opposition in the committee, and it is thought it will pass by a good majority in the House, it has gained much strength with members since its favorable consideration by the Finance Committee. These gentle-men say it would not have been necessary the Finance Committee. These gentlemen say it would not have been necessary to ask for this appropriation at all had not the financial stringeney in Richmond prevented several wealthy and liberal gentlemen from subscribing to the building fund, who were much interested, and from whom handsome contributions were expected.

Now some of the intrest tax-payers in the State say, while they cannot individually contribute, they will gladly pay their part of the sum needed in an appropriation by the State.

In fact the prevailing sentiment in this State as reported by Mr. Morton, who canvassed in every section, is that a Virginia building is peculiarly a State matter and the State ought to provide for it. He says that a great many who did contribute, protested while doing so, that they ought not to be called upon, while more declined, saying that the Legislature ought to provide the money and would do it if called upon; now it is up to that body and the patrons. Friends of the bill hope to get it passed to engrossment in the House to-day.

Mr. Elam Quite Ill.

Mr. Elam Utile III.

A private letter received in this city conveys the information that Hon. James J. Flam member of the House front for the House from the House for the House from the Committee of the House and one of the most valuable members of the General Assembly. He has won the warm friend-shin of many members during the long session in which there was no more failth-ful or conscientious worker.
